Medical certificate form 1a maharashtra rto

RTO Form 1A is the second application in the Driver's License category. Applicants submit this document together with Form 1 when applying for a driver's license. The State Government appoints a registered doctor to conduct a thorough medical examination of candidates before completing the application. The doctor also checks the parts, furnished in Form 1, through this document. How do I fill out an application for Form 1A RTO? Form 1A consists of three parts - personal data along with photography, declaration and certificate of medical fitness. The applicant fills out the first part, while the registered doctor certifies the second and third part. Below is the step-by-step process of filling out the form. Attach a recent passport-sized photo to the top right corner of the app. In paragraph 1, with your full name, as indicated in the document presented with the document. At point 2, enter two markings that are easily visible on the body, such as moles, moles or stitch marks. Paragraph 3 consists of a set of declarations to check whether a candidate is suitable for driving on the roads. His current state of health should not pose a threat to other passengers. The a declaration states whether the candidate has any vision defects. If the doctor notes yes in this category, he should also mention whether it is possible to correct the visual question by wearing glasses. The second declaration certifies whether the applicant can distinguish between pigmented colors such as red and green. The third confirms the ability to detect other cars and license plates at a distance of at least 25 meters. In both cases, the doctor notes yes if he believes that your senses are functioning within the standard range. The 'd' declaration informs whether a candidate has any degree of deafness that may interfere with his responsibility behind the wheel. The next declaration (para. e) is dedicated to night blindness. It is a vitamin A deficiency disease that interferes with night vision. Candidates having this medical problem can prove challenging to driving at night. Declaration f concludes whether the applicant has a deformity or loss of organs that interfere with his driving skills. The RTO Department ensures that under no circumstances may the driver pose a risk to other passengers or drivers of other vehicles. The 'g' declaration contains detailed information about the blood grouping and the applicant's factor. This point is optional; the candidate remains at the discretion of the candidate, whether he wants to include this information in his driver's license. The final part of Form 1A consists of a Certificate of Medical Fitness. Here, a registered doctor appointed by the State Government certifies that he has personally examined the applicant. The doctor also notes that he will pay special attention to the distant vision. If a candidate applies for a commercial (carrier goods) or dangerous truck (oil tanker) license, the doctor should also examine his reaction time, glare recovery, and lateral vision. It is important how driving these vehicles requires better physical fitness and mental vigilance. Finally, the doctor states whether the candidate is suitable for obtaining a driver's license. If the doctor considers the candidate unsuitable, he should clearly know the reasons for his findings. The doctor must sign a medical certificate along with his name and the designation above the candidate's signature or thumb. It must also mention its registration number and attach the official stamp to the form. The documents that will be attached detail below are a list of documents required when filling out Form 1 ID The latest photo of the applicant's passport Duly filled out form 1 Download the application for the candidate's medical certificate in PDF format: Download now the key factors that will be considered when filling out Form 1A The doctor must attach his signature over the passport size of the photo of the candidate so that part of his sign must be over the photo and the remainder.
